Caractère open-source développé par Pierre Seguin.

Ce caractère se base sur le Holland Gotisch, caractère libre datant de 2010. Il fut dessiné à l'aide d'« Alphagraph », un outil open-source de recherche de forme typographique, dont la fonction principale repose sur la récupération de copie matricielle (bitmap) de caractère typographique, et l'application d'une trame à celui-ci. Cette trame se compose d'un ensemble de points (pixels) qui permettent l'affichage des lettres à l'écran via deux formes distinctes ; l'ellipse et la ligne.

Open-source character developed by Pierre Seguin.

This character is based on the Holland Gotisch, free character dating from 2010. It was designed using « Alphagraph », an open-source typographic search tool, whose main function is to recover typographic bitmap (bitmap), and applying a frame to it. This frame consists of a set of points (pixels) that allow the display of letters on the screen via two distinct forms; the ellipse and the line.
